Good morning I.S.201! This is Leilani from class 731, here with you this Talk A lot Tuesday on behalf of the S.E.A.L. Team.

Today is March 17th, also known as St. Patrick's Day! St. Patrick's Day is such a fun and colorful holiday that is celebrated every year on March 17th. It started in Ireland to honor St. Patrick, but now people all around the world celebrate it. On this day, everyone loves to wear green so they don't get "pinched," and you'll see shamrocks, rainbows, and silly little leprechauns everywhere. Some cities even have big parades with music and dancing. A lot of people also talk about good luck and finding a pot of gold at the end of a rainbow. Even if you're not Irish, it's still a fun day to celebrate by wearing green, learning about Irish culture, and spreading a little extra happiness. St. Patrick's Day reminds us that sometimes it's fun to be a little silly and enjoy the small, lucky moments in life.

Like Albert Einstein, the affirmation of the day is: "I take time to reflect on what I learn."

Thank you for listening and have a Truly Magical Tuesday 😊
