Good morning I.S.201! This is Venice from class 851, here with you this Words of Wisdom Wednesday on behalf of the S.E.A.L. Team.

Happy Wednesday! Did you know that today is National Hamburger Day? That's right, one of America's favorite foods gets its own special day. Whether you like it with cheese, ketchup, lettuce, or all the toppings, hamburgers remind us of something bigger: how different ingredients come together to make something amazing, just like all of us here at school. Each person brings something unique to our school, and when we work together, we create something great. So, let's carry that message with us today, whether in class, at lunch, or just saying hi to a friend. Be kind and stay positive.

Thanks for listening and have a Welcoming Wednesday 😊
