Rise and shine, I.S.201! This is William Chen of class 852 speaking to you for today's Motivational Monday on behalf of the S.E.A.L Team!

Happy National Tell a Story Day! Stories have an undeniable quality to take us back in time and share personal experiences to one another. Not only that, stories are also a great way to bond, allowing us to speak on memories that we've created while immersing ourselves in the moment. Whether it may be real or fictional, stories are products of our imagination and hold a creative role in our society. Dating back to ancient Egyptian days, stories have always been used as both document and entertainment. This is no different from our lives today; whether we're watching a show, reading a book, or even writing a poem, all stories have a message to be sent. All of our stories are different and we all have different tales to tell. So, take today as a chance to tell your story and how it has shaped who you are as a person today!

Like Leonardo Da Vinci, the affirmation of the day is, "I believe everything is connected in some way."

Thanks for listening and have a Memorable Moments Monday 😊
