Good morning I.S.201! This is Riley from class 731 here with you this Talk A lot Tuesday on behalf of the S.E.A.L. Team.

Did you know that today is national Mickey Mouse Day? This special day honors the creation of Mickey Mouse, who is one of the most famous and beloved characters in the world. Mickey Mouse has brought happiness to people of all ages for many years, and this day gives us a chance to recognize his importance in entertainment and imagination. Today is a day to celebrate Walt Disney and all of the fun cartoons and movies we have watched growing up. Children often learn from the world around them, role models, and especially what they see on TV.

Disney has taught many kids as well as those in our generation so much about growing up and how important it is for people to appreciate the aspect of imagination in their lives. Mickey Mouse has become a symbol of joy, creativity, and childhood fun for so many generations and hopefully many more to come. Sit down for a little bit and watch a Disney movie, relax and enjoy the day.

Like Marie Curie, today's affirmation is: "I believe that every question is worth exploring."

Thanks for listening and have a Trust the Magic Tuesday 😊
